

Time Tracker

Track your work. Celebrate your wins.

DESKTOP · LOCAL-FIRST · FREE SOFTWARE

Your week at a glance

A Monday–Sunday calendar shows where your effort went. Jump between weeks or snap back to today in one click.

Log achievements in seconds

Add items to any day, edit in place, and keep a clear history of what you shipped—without leaving the calendar.

- Pin a day to focus the detail panel
- Hover-friendly cards for quick scanning
- Built for short updates, not heavyweight project management

Export a weekly Markdown report

Turn the week into a shareable `.md` file—great for standups, retros, or your personal archive.

📄 One-click export

Your data stays on your machine

No cloud account required. In the Electron app, data lives under your home directory; the browser build uses local storage only.

- Works offline once installed
- You own the JSON—back it up like any other file

Looks good in every light

Pick a theme from the toolbar—default, dark, and more—so the UI matches how you work, day or night.

📖 Multiple themes

⚡ Fast, lightweight UI

Free & open source

Time Tracker is released under the GNU GPL v2. Inspect the code, suggest improvements, or fork for your team.

View on GitHubDownload releases